

Ribbit Developer Quotes

“Through Flash Player, Ribbit pushes the envelope to the extreme by giving developers and designers the web’s first and most versatile, fully programmable voice and messaging platform. Compiling Ribbit into your app establishes a bridge with the Ribbit service, connecting your app and users to our global telephone network.”

Chuck Freedman, Director of Developer Platform, Ribbit

“As an experienced Flex designer and developer, I am always looking for new technologies to build my projects around. Ribbit really caught me by surprise. I had never dreamed that I could build an app that lets you make/receive phone calls, check and send messages, and manage your address book. Ribbit turned my AIR iPhone project into an acclaimed, working phone which became one of the most popular AIR apps to date. I’ve continued working with Ribbit with several projects and am grateful for the tremendous support their team provides me.”

Joe Johnston, UX Specialist, Universal Mind

“I’ve been using the Ribbit API for several weeks, creating call widgets in a matter of hours. If it were possible it would have taken several months, but it wasn’t possible. The API is extremely simple to use. I’m thrilled that I’m now able to offer my clients voice integrations with minimal effort.”

Heitor Bembom, Creative Consultant

“Ribbit’s platform promises tons of new creative possibilities for our multi-platform viral campaigns. We are all about getting communities to engage with our digital brand experiences. But mobile development has historically been a nightmare. Ribbit's Flash API is making it very easy to integrate mobile viral features into our campaigns – allowing us to keep pushing on new forms of interactive brand storytelling. Mekanism and our clients are very excited about our partnership with Ribbit and BT.”

Pete Caban, CEO/Head of Digital, Mekanism

“Ribbit lets us extend SlideRocket’s value by integrating world class ip telephony. Now, in addition to making great presentations with SlideRocket, users can take advantage of a one-click phone calling solution, putting them directly in touch with their audience. This provides a direct pathway from an on demand presentation to a live person, ensuring timely connections and measurable results.”

Mitch Grasso, CEO, SlideRocket
